

Cincinnati
Museum Center

Accessibility Amenities in Museum of Natural History & Science

5.26.2023

Museum of Natural History & Science: Entry

- Noise-reducing headphones and fidgets at all ticketing kiosks

Museum of Natural History & Science: Dinosaur Hall

Touchable bronze models, petrified wood and real fossils

Torvosaurus tooth

Pointed, curved and serrated, these teeth are a lot like steak knives. Paleontologists often find single loose theropod teeth around the skeletons of dinosaurs theropods ate, suggesting that they fell out during feeding. New teeth grew in as old teeth became worn or broken.

Text panels written in Braille

Museum of Natural History & Science: Science Interactives Gallery

- Heads up: loudest gallery in MNH&S with lots of motion

Museum of Natural History & Science: Get Into Nature Gallery

- Sounds, smells and tactile offerings fill this nature-based exhibit gallery.

There is a wheelchair lift at the end of the ramp to help guests transition from galleries as needed.

Museum of Natural History & Science: Labs

All labs are view only

Museum of Natural History & Science: The Cave

Museum of Natural History & Science: Ice Age Gallery

Signage alerting guests to the challenges on the trail in the gallery

Museum of Natural History & Science: Ice Cave

- Heads up: The Ice Cave groans, is dark, feels narrow, changes temperature and the end cannot be seen at the beginning.
- There is space before and after to prepare and recoup as needed.

Museum of Natural History & Science: Neil Armstrong Space Exploration Gallery

Sound cones

Dark, loud theater with seven screens in the round. The Neil Armstrong show is captioned.

Movable seating

Museum of Natural History & Science: Additional Amenities

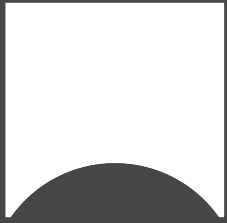

Ramps throughout the museum

Elevator from The Cave Plaza are to the Neil Armstrong Space Exploration Gallery

Accessible buttons for the doors

Cincinnati
Museum Center

Thank you

cincymuseum.org/accessibility accessibility@cincymuseum.org